

CART FIRST, QUESTIONS LATER

A Gentle Seven-Day Wave

Your complimentary Square Royalty month is almost at the curb

Dear Neighbor,

A few weeks ago the porch light came on and you stepped onto the private lanai as a Square Royalty guest — no card, no fuss, just a chance to see whether the boards felt like home. I hope the weather has been useful, the kitchen list a little less chaotic, and Golf Cart Hero only moderately addictive.

This note is a friendly wave from the driveway. Your complimentary month has about seven days left.

When the trial ends, nothing dramatic happens. If you have not chosen a paid plan, your account simply becomes Porch Waver again — the free neighbor membership. The public Hub stays open. Your welcome stays intact. Waving from the porch is still a perfectly honorable Villages lifestyle.

If the private lanai has earned a place in the daily routine, keeping a membership is a good option. A yearly plan unlocks extra household logins, the full Reboot boards, and the tools that live behind the glass. You can pick one anytime on the Plans page at www.TheVillagesEverythingApp.com.

A friendly reminder — still not a sales pitch

Purchasing a membership is optional. If the private boards have been useful, I hope you will keep them — it is a good option, and I would be glad to have you stay. If you would rather remain a Porch Waver, that is completely fine. I will roll the account back automatically. Either way, you remain a neighbor.

What membership unlocks

Public Hub pages stay free. Membership simply unlocks your private My Space lanai. Each paid tier keeps everything below it, and extra household seats get their own login, password, and boards.

Plan	Yearly	What you get
Porch Waver	$0	Free neighbor account — 1 login. Preview the Reboot boards. My Space door, favorites, shortcuts, and yard-sale posting when approved. Personalized tools stay behind the glass. I wave. You wave. That's the whole social contract.
Cart Path Regular	$3	2 member logins, each with their own password and boards. Daily dashboard energy — full weather, investments, news prefs, and entertainment picks. Knows which gate is which (most days).
Lanai Legend	$5	3 member logins. The private Reboot: health, pets, kitchen, gym, maintenance, personal calendar, private photos, golf and pickleball. Screened-in serenity with a side of spreadsheets.
Square Royalty	$10	4 member logins. Everything on the lanai, plus the royalty lounge, badge flair, and early access to new My Space boards. Front row at the square. Metaphorically. Parking still chaos.

Where to keep a plan — if you want one

1. Sign in at www.TheVillagesEverythingApp.com and open My Space.
2. Visit the Plans page — it is linked from My Space and from the site footer.
3. Choose Cart Path Regular ($3/year), Lanai Legend ($5/year), or Square Royalty ($10/year). Each paid tier keeps everything beneath it.
4. That is the whole errand. No rush, and no hard feelings if you close the tab and stay a Porch Waver.

If you do nothing at all

On the last day of the trial, your account becomes Porch Waver automatically. You keep one login, Hub access, favorites, shortcuts, and yard-sale posting when approved. Personalized tools go back behind the glass. You can upgrade later any time you like — the porch light stays on.

I built this place because I came here to reboot — loudly, sunnily, and with better snacks. Keep the lanai or wave from the porch. Either one is a good Villages afternoon.

Watch for the cart. Wave anyway.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Gilbert
